

HOW TO ENABLE FLASH

This site explains the process for each browser:

<http://www.thewindowsclub.com/enable-adobe-flash-player>

Whenever possible, flash should only be updated for theia certification and not enabled for every site.

The below instructions for Chrome are a bit easier. Sort of a short cut.

CHROME
